5. NHS Constitution

The CCG is committed to:

- The achievement of the principles, values, rights, pledges and responsibilities detailed in the NHS Constitution, and
- Ensuring they are taken account of in the production of its Policies Procedures and Guidelines.

This policy supports the NHS Constitution by committing to use NHS resources responsibly and fairly and providing best value for taxpayer's money.

6. Responsibilities

The Chief Finance Office / Finance Skills Development Lead / Line Manager have a responsibility to support the student to the best of their ability in relation to allowing study leave / annual leave, whilst at the same time ensuring that CCG workload is covered.

The student has a responsibility to ensure that they take their studies seriously and make every effort to complete the course of study as quickly as possible. The student also has a responsibility to ensure that their workload is managed and completed to the best of their ability.

7. Study support

7.1 Pre-requisites

Any study should be part of the agreed Personal Development Plan for the relevant staff member.

All plans for study should be discussed and agreed with the Chief Finance Officer responsible for professional accounting study (currently Emma Sayner) and their Line Manager (if different) before any commitment is made to embark on a particular course of study.

Each level of qualification should be completed before moving on to the next stage. If examinations are failed, they must be re-sat and passed before moving on to any new study.

Evidence of examination results (copy of notification) must be provided to the Chief Finance Officer as soon as they are available.

In the event that a staff member chooses to leave the CCG within twelve months of undertaking a course of study, any financial support provided for that course of study will be repayable to the CCG.

7.2 Examinations First Attempt

Financial Support

The CCG will fund 100% of the costs of either tuition fees or open learning/home study course and the examination fees. The member of staff can choose to have either main tuition or a revision course funded but not both.

This funding will be subject to agreement by the Finance Skills Development Lead and their Line Manager that the course/home study pack is offered by an appropriate provider and is judged to provide value for money.

Travel to attend any tuition, revision courses or examinations will be funded to the closest location at Public Transport Rate. Funding of travel to any other location will be at the discretion of the Finance Skills Development Lead/Line Manager, and any such request should be supported by a case of need.

Study Leave

The CCG will allow a maximum of four days study leave per examination, to include:

- Attendance at formal tuition
- Open learning study (if this is the chosen method)
- Revision
- Sitting the examination itself.

The study leave allowance outlined above can be supplemented by a staff member using their annual leave, subject to agreement and approval by the Finance Skills Development Lead and the Line Manager (if different).

At the commencement of a course of study the relevant staff member should present to the Finance Skills Development Lead and their Line Manager a proposed plan of study which identifies when they are proposing to be away from the CCG (Study Leave/Annual Leave/Other Leave) up to and including the sitting of the examination. This plan should be realistic and maintain a balance of study and CCG workload.

Block periods of leave will not usually be classed as appropriate and will depend on the departmental workload and other staff studying and requesting time off for the same sitting.

7.3 Examinations First Re-sit

Financial Support

Tuition fees will not normally be funded, although it may be considered if there is a fundamental restructuring of the examination syllabus that effectively means a different examination has to be taken.

Students may be entitled to free tuition and/or revision depending on the Pass Guarantee scheme of the training provider.

Examination fees will be funded at 100% for the first re-sit. Revision courses will not be funded.

Travel to attend any tuition, revision courses or examinations will not be funded.

Study Leave

The CCG will allow a maximum of one days study leave per examination, to include:

- Attendance at formal tuition
- Opening Learning study (if this is the chosen method)
- Revision
- Sitting the examination itself

The study leave allowance outlined above can be supplemented by a staff member using their annual leave, subject to agreement and approval by the Finance Skills Development Lead and the Line Manager (if different).

At the commencement of a course of study the relevant staff member should present to the Finance Skills Development Lead and their Line Manager a proposed plan of study which identifies when they are proposing to be away from the CCG (Study Leave/Annual Leave/Other Leave) up to and including the sitting of the examination. This plan should be realistic and maintain a balance of study and CCG workload.

Block periods of leave will not usually be classed as appropriate and will depend on the departmental workload and other staff studying and requesting time off for the same sitting.

7.4 Examinations Second and Subsequent Re-sits

Financial support and Study Leave support will not be available.

Annual leave may be approved, subject to the agreement of the Finance Skills Development Lead and the line manager.

8. Monitoring & Review

This policy will be reviewed every two years, more frequent if required.
